

breathe

When I thought I was alone
You that I don't know at all
You that no one would dare to talk to well you were there for me.
A light in the shadow to guide my faith.

My fear left again, I've been so betrayed
But your gift chased the pain away
You made me

Breathe
A gentle breeze in darkness
Breathe easier
Breathe.

It will still burn in my soul
And warm me up when I'm cold.
While my dream had died
You gave me a bit of pride
I will still keep a piece of you inside.

My fear left again, I've been so betrayed
But your gift chased the pain away
You made me

Breathe
A gentle breeze in darkness
Breathe easier
Breathe.
